

SIX ARE HURT IN HEAD-ON CRASH OF BURLINGTON LIMITED TRAINS

BAD COLLISION AT DESOTO, WIS.

Injured Are Buried 'Neath Piles of Wreckage; One Directs His Own Rescue

A RELIEF TRAIN IS RUSHED

No. 49 Fails to Heed Orders and Runs Past Before No. 50 Takes the Siding

Oriental Limited No. 49, northbound, and North Pacific coast Limited No. 50, southbound, collided head-on at the foot of the main street in Desoto, Wis., twenty miles south of here, at 6:22 this morning and as a result the following were injured:

J. W. McDONALD, 1721 Fitzwater street Philadelphia, colored porter of private car "Hazlemare," right leg broken above the knee. Face cut by glass.

W. STAFFORD, Aurora, Ill., electrician, hip hurt and head cut.

J. SWEET, Savanna, Ill., mail clerk

JERRY LEONARD, Savanna, Ill., mail clerk on No. 49, bruised and cut, and wrist and ribs reported broken.

L. E. WEAVER, 169 Locust street, Chicago, mail clerk on No. 49 bruised.

C. ECKERT, baggageman, bruised and cut.

None of the passengers were hurt, although many suffered severe shaking up.

Southbound Train Late

The southbound train, No. 50, in charge of Engineer Clarence G. King and Fireman A. Kimble, was four hours late and had orders to take the siding at Desoto. Northbound train No. 49, in charge of Engineer James O'Brien and Fireman W. S. Smith, had orders to meet No. 50, but had the right of way on the main track. The Southbound train did not arrive in time to take the siding, and they met on the main track near the depot. The fact they were both running at reduced speed is probably all that prevented a frightful loss of life.

The engine crews of both trains escaped by jumping from their cabs except Engineer Clarence King, who stuck to his post, telling his fireman to jump.

One mail car on No. 49 was demolished and a baggage car on No. 50 was telescoped by one of the Pullman cars. The two engines were interlocked and No. 49's locomotive was demolished. No. 50's locomotive was heavier and was not seriously damaged. All of the cars retained the track excepting a mail car which was thrown crosswise, and which delayed traffic for more than six hours, while the wreckage was being cleared away.

Relief Train Called

At 7:30 a relief and wrecking train from the local yards was made up and six physicians from this city with Red Cross supplies were rushed to the scene of the accident. It was first thought the crash had been much more serious and street rumors here as to the number of killed, placed the estimate variously from 25 to 150 dead. There were a number of La Crosse people on the train, but as far as can be learned none were injured. Engineer James O'Brien of the north side telephoned his wife soon after the accident to inform her he was uninjured.

Burlington officials announce that an investigation as to the cause of the wreck has already been started. Conductor Mike Dunn was in charge of train No. 49.

Officials here announce that the injured are not badly hurt, and that they will be taken directly to their homes and will not be taken to the local hospitals. The colored porter is the only one, say railroad officials, who will need hospital attention. The private car he occupied was a "dead" one, being conveyed to its destination and he was the only occupant.

The Official Report

The official report of the wreck made to and given out by Chief Clerk C. J. Sier of the Burlington road is as follows:

"The accident happened at 6:22 o'clock this morning. The Oriental Limited, No. 49, northbound, and the North Pacific coast train, No. 50, southbound, about 4 hours late, crashed into each other head end on about 1,000 feet north of the De Soto depot. The engines locked and No. 49's mail coach was thrown across the track. The vestibule on the coach on No. 50 was broken, the remainder of the cars remaining on the track. The wreck was cleared by about 12

CONDITION OF PAUL ESCH BAD

Son of Congressman Submits to Knife and Is in Serious Way Today

Paul Esch, the oldest son of Congressman and Mrs. John J. Esch, who returned from the state university at Madison Saturday, was operated on by Drs. Evans and Dvorak at the St. Francis hospital this morning, the operation revealing a foreign growth in the pancreas affecting the surrounding organs. The physicians stated after the examination that the young man's condition is regarded as serious.

PLAYTHING OF RACING "TOUT" A SUICIDE

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Florence Schenck Wilson, the beautiful Norfolk, Va., girl who tried to end her life in a west end hotel last night when she learned that her husband, Charles H. Wilson, manager of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's racing stable would have nothing more to do with her, is near death today.

Neither her husband nor Vanderbilt to whom she applied in her adversity, has been near her. She is apparently without friends and money.

The empolement of Florence Schenck and Wilson while the latter still had a wife, was a national sensation. Wilson was later divorced but he now claims that his marriage with Miss Schenck was illegal because it occurred before his divorce.

The death of Mrs. Ruitz, who committed suicide here last May, had preyed upon Mrs. Wilson's mind. She was alone with Mrs. Ruitz at the time the latter killed herself. Since that time Mrs. Wilson has frequently quarreled with Alfred Vanderbilt who had refused to tell her where Wilson was.

STAR PITCHER TO BECOME AVIATOR

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Three-fingered Brown, aviator.

That's the way baseball fans will read it, if the dreams of the star pitcher of the Chicago Cubs come true. Incidentally the desire to sit in the hall of fame alongside of the Wright Brothers, Curtiss, Bleriot and Paulhan, is the real reason why Brown has not yet signed a contract with the Chicago Cubs for next season, according to private information from Brown's Indiana home. Brown has struck for a big raise. He expects to get it but he also objects strenuously to the new major league contracts and has given it out that he will not attach his signature to one. If President Murphy of the Cubs does not agree to Brown's terms, the three fingered twirler expects to go into the aeroplane business right away.

"It's about time I was getting into some kind of business," said Brown, "and the air game looks good to me. I think there is a great future in the sport and that later on it will become more than a pastime."

EIGHTY-FOUR TAKE ENUMERATOR'S EXAM.

Eighty-four persons took the civil service enumerators Saturday for positions as enumerators in the coming census. The examinations were given in the federal building, forty of the applicants later being sent over to the county court house on account of lack of room.

Results of the examination will be made known in a few days. The test consisted simply of the filling out of a complete enumerator's return sheet.

POSTAL BANKS ARE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—With lusty blows, Senator Payner (D., Md.) who is accredited with deep knowledge of the constitution, attacked the postal savings deposit bill in the senate today. "It has not a constitutional leg to stand on or a constitutional peg to hang from, according to Payner, and if by chance it is enacted and sustained in court, the precedent will be a menace to American institutions."

WOULD CUT RATES OF EXPRESS COS.

Minnesota Man Declares that Sixty Per Cent of Present Express Charges Is Extortionate

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—B. E. Sundberg of Kennedy, Minn., upon whose complaint the interstate commerce commission is investigating the railroad express companies of the country, declared today in his opinion the companies could reduce present rates fully 60 per cent and still make money. On the witness stand he declared he had been charged seven times as much expressage on many articles than he would have had to pay if he had sent them by freight and he insisted that he made the complaint against the express companies because the people of the section in which he resides are "victims of gross overcharges by the express companies."

Would Swamp Companies

Traffic Manager Ludlow of the Wells-Fargo company took exceptions to Sundberg's testimony. He declared that of the reduction he demanded of sixty per cent in rates were to be put into effect express companies would be swamped with business that it has no desire to handle. He declared express matter is handled on fast trains, many of them passenger trains, with the result that express business was necessarily limited. He insisted that a reduction of rates would operate against the present excellent service.

"At the present time," he said, "the volume of our business handled by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad is at the maximum of the facilities the road allows us. Our messengers on that road are sometimes compelled to travel in box cars because the express cars are filled to the limit. This condition is true on most of our western railroads."

Asks for Rate Schedule

Ludlow said in conclusion that the express companies would deem it a great favor if interstate commerce commission would submit a schedule of rates, according to their idea of what express rates ought to be. He asserted that it is unfair for state authorities to force express companies to change their rates instead of taking the matter to the interstate commerce commission.

The hearing closed at noon today. The two sides will submit their briefs to the commission and later argue the case.

Peter J. Kessel, 632 North Eleventh street, died at his home this morning, aged 89 years.

Madame J. J. Jusserand and the beautiful sitting room in the new French embassy.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The new French embassy, with its beauty and grandeur, is far famed, but it is the ambassador and his wife rather than the embassy itself that has made it such. ZELAYA LOSES A DESPERATE FIGHT

Government Victorious in Ambuscade, but Over-Enthusiastic Leaders Are Shot Down

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 7.—(By Mexican Cable from Managua, Feb. 7.)—According to official dispatches from General Vasquez today, the provisional army under General Mena was led into a carefully planned ambuscade at Santo Tomas and one-sixth of their number killed. The government forces, says Vasquez, lost only one man killed and a few wounded.

In the running fight that followed the administration soldiers became over enthusiastic and pursued with reckless abandon, with the result that Captain Parinalli was killed and Colonel Miguel and Captain Navarro desperately wounded. Navarro was formerly governor of the Managua penitentiary, and it was he who executed Zelaya's orders for the flogging, shooting and torturing of political prisoners.

The reinforcing of the Estrada forces by Col. Zeledon and 300 men stemmed the tide of retreat and prevented the insurgent division from being cut off entirely from the rest of the Estrada army.

The victory has greatly stimulated the government troops, who lost confidence after their defeat at Rama, says Vasquez's message.

Rebels Near City

MANAGUA, Feb. 7.—Jubilation that followed yesterday's dispatches that Provisional President Estrada's army had been decisively defeated at Santo Tomas and that the city had thus escaped the threatened attack by the revolutionary army, was turned to wild alarm today by the news that General Mena, Begina and Chamorro of the revolutionary army have organized their forces and are now but 40 miles east of Managua and within an easy two days' march of the capital.

The reports of government successes, it is feared, are all "doctored" by the government authorities and the plight of President Madrid's army is believed to be far worse than the early dispatches indicated.

SPECTRE STILL SWAYS STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The spectre of "federal interference," although "laid" so far as official Washington is concerned, hung over the stock market today with the result that at noon conditions bordering on demoralization prevailed. All of the standard stocks, the Harrimans, Steel, Reading, Smelters and most of the industrials were under the severest pressure and values sold off from 3 to 5 points below Saturday's close.

The bear element was in absolute control.

NEW YORK HIT BY A BLIZZARD

Worst Storm and Coldest Weather of Winter Is Sweeping the Atlantic Coast

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Accompanied by a blizzard-like wind the cold wave that swept down Saturday night had by today developed into the coldest of the winter. Intense suffering is the result.

The coldest recorded by the official thermometer at the weather bureau here was 1.0 degrees above zero, the lowest official reading made in a number of years in New York City. The coming of the sun did little to warm up the city for at 8 o'clock the thermometer had risen to only 2.4 above zero. So intense was the cold and so high the wind that pedestrians were practically swept off their feet.

The rivers and upper bay are filled with great blocks of ice, causing delay in traffic.

20 Below at Glens Falls

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 7.—This city and the Adirondack region is in the grip of the most serious cold snap in years. Thermometers in the city registered 20 below zero while 30 and 40 below are reported at Lake George and in the woods.

Shipping Suffers

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Listed heavily to port, her decks a foot deep in ice, icebergs as thick as a man's leg hanging from her spars and her seamen nearly frozen, the steamer Eva, sugar laden, from Matanzas, Cuba, anchored today off quarantine after the most tempestuous voyage in its history.

25 Below at Watertown

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 7.—The coldest weather of the winter, prevailed through northern New York last night and today. The thermometer fell to 25 degrees below zero today. At Norwood and Ogdensburg, temperature was from 25 to 30 degrees below. At Saranac Lake it was 25 below, while 38 below was recorded at Newton Falls. Thus far no fatalities have been reported.

Extreme at Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 7.—Cleveland's cold wave reached its climax at 6 a. m. when the mercury dropped to 5 degrees above zero, hanging there until 7 a. m. when the mercury reached 9 degrees, the highest temperature since 5 p. m. yesterday. Notwithstanding the extreme cold no casualties are reported.

MONEYLESS W. BARCLAY DRINKS ACID IN ROOM

WHISKEY SPELLED DOOM OF FULLER

Prisoner of Unknown Antecedents Dies at Hospital of Pneumonia Due to Dissipation

MONEY SENT BY MISSIONARY

Was to Have Gone to Milwaukee but Failed to Recover from His Last "Spree"

Fred F. Fuller, convicted and sentenced to a term in the county jail for drunkenness on January 22, is dead at the La Crosse hospital, and no one seems to know who he is or where he came from. Fuller's death was due to pneumonia and pleurisy, brought on by too much "booze."

Fuller was taken ill almost as soon as he was incarcerated in the jail and his supply of whiskey was moderately limited. He was removed to the hospital Saturday on the advice of County Physician Wolfe.

Fuller was about to be discharged from the county jail here and yesterday received a letter from Melvin E. Trotter, superintendent of the City Rescue Mission at Grand Rapids, Mich., which may throw some light on his past. The man was anxious to get to Milwaukee from here and had written Trotter to help him out of town. Trotter sent the sheriff four dollars Saturday with the following letters, one for Fuller and the other personal:

"You have a man in jail there by the name of Fred Fuller. He has never been able to stay sober and he writes me he is in trouble and I believe it. Enclosed you will please find my check for $4.00. Will you please buy him a ticket to Milwaukee? If you give him the money, he will be drunk before he gets out of town."

"He has been a very bright man in his day, at one time holding a position of trust in this city. It is the same old story, whiskey."

Letter to Fuller

"Mr. Fred F. Fuller, La Crosse Wis. My dear Fred: I am sorry to find you are in trouble again. Very sorry to know you are sick. I will send the sheriff $4.00 to buy a ticket to Milwaukee as you ask me to do in your letter."

"This to me means much, because if you lie to me this time, and do not go square, I think your chances with God will be slim. The Lord is not going to pull you through many of these times if you go back on Him. I could almost pray that He would take you out of this world before He would let you go into sin again."

"You know when I send this $4.00 it means much to me, and I do this all to help you. I hope you will not come out of there and try to go in your own strength, take Jesus with you, and when you get to Milwaukee go right to Sillaway and tell him I sent you, and he will give you a place to live and your meals until you can get something to do."

WHISKEY CAUSE OF SERIOUS CRIME

Cope and his wife were separated and she had been living with her parents here. This morning he called at the house and asked to talk with her. After fondling his five-year-old son Ameth, Cope suddenly declared: "I am tired of life any way," and drew a revolver.

"It was whiskey that caused all our troubles and this terrible crime," exclaimed Mrs. Cope to the police when they arrived. The wounded woman said that they had formerly lived at Olney, Ill. Mrs. Cope is expected to recover.

EMPLOYEE OF CAN COMPANY DIES

Body Found by Companion and Coroner Decides It Is a Case of Suicide

LIVED AT PEORIA, ILLINOIS

Secured Poison at Drug Store "to Make Poulitice" for Sick Horse and Gave Wrong Name

William Barclay, an employee of the La Crosse Can Company boarded at the Burlington hotel, committed suicide in his room at the latter place this morning, or some time, last night by taking carbolic acid. Barclay's remains were discovered in his room this morning by a companion named Meyer, who immediately reported the affair to Elmer Hanson, yardman at the hotel. Coroner Leonard Kleeber, who was immediately called on the scene declared that it was a clear case of suicide and an inquest would be unnecessary.

The poison with which the suicide ended his life was purchased yesterday at the Bellerue Drug store, when Barclay gave the name of William Dempsey. He declared he wanted the acid to make a poultice for a sick horse and nothing was thought of the sale at the time.

To a companion named Meyer, also employed at the can factory, Barclay had said that he formerly resided at Peoria, Ill., where his family resided on Washington street. Coroner Kleeber today wired the chief of police at Peoria to ascertain whether or not the dead man had friends or relatives there, but received a response that these could not be located if they do live there as Washington street is over five miles long.

Unless relatives can be found to claim the remains they will be interred here at the expense of the county.

The suicide left no note or clue as to the cause of his action, but it is learned today that he was in financial straits and had drawn upon his salary account. He was formerly a sheep shearer in Montana.

BURNS TO DEATH IN GASOLINE BLAZE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 7.—Enveloped in flames when the head of a match dropped on to cellar steps saturated with gasoline, Miss Matilda Kuepesh, 22, was last evening so severely burned that she died at 1:30 this morning at St. Joseph's hospital.

In an attempt to descend the steps to rescue Miss Kuepesh, Robert Burns was badly burned about the hands and face. The pains he suffered compelled him to temporarily cease his heroic efforts, after which he leaped through a sheet of flame to the bottom of the stairway. But in carrying the girl from the cellar his clothing was set afire and before he reached the outside he suffered additional severe burns.

The young woman had gone into the cellar with a match to ascertain what fluid had spilled on the floor when a few moments before in descending the stairs, she had accidentally kicked over a bottle.

The man who holds the record has to his account sixty-three cakes, thirty-two of which were devoured Sunday morning for breakfast. In the meantime, the proprietor is patting himself on the back, realizing that by the end of the week the six men will have eaten $15 worth of cakes, while he pays out but $1 in prizes.

MINISTER FAINTS DURING SERVICES

OSHKOSH, Wis., Feb. 7.—While kneeling at the reader's desk and responding to the congregation to the hymn, read by his assistant, the Rev. John W. Greenwood, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, fell over at the 10:30 o'clock service Sunday morning.

It was an hour before he was revived, but Sunday night he was resting comfortably and no serious results are expected.

The attack was due to overwork, Mr. Greenwood being a man of great energy and having many parish duties. His congregation is one of the largest in the state.

Members of the vested choir assisted in carrying him to the vestry. Although the congregation was deeply shocked, perfect order was maintained, and a portion of the service was continued after it was announced that the rector was better.

Trinity church belongs to the Fond du Lac diocese, but for years has been opposed to the high church doctrine of Bishop Grafton.

Mrs. Percival Halsey, whose husband is a son of Judge Halsey of Milwaukee, is a daughter of Mr. Greenwood and lives at Milwaukee.

KLING TO GET BACK IN LEAGUE AGAIN

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 7.—John Kling, catcher for the Chicago National Baseball club, has filed a petition for reinstatement in the ranks of eligible players with President August Hermann, of the National Baseball commission. He became outlawed because he refused to play with the Cubs last year.

There will probably never be any monuments unveiled in memory of the man who invented the alarm clock.

DON'T TRY PRESSURE Trust to Intelligence.

You cannot by process of law prevent anyone from drugging themselves to death. We must meet the evil by an appeal to the intelligence. One of the drugs that does the most harm to Americans, because of its widespread use and apparent innocence, is coffee.

Ask any regular coffee drinker if he or she is perfectly well. At least one-half are not.

Only those with extra vigor can keep well against the daily attack of caffeine (in the coffee). The heart and pulse gradually lose strength; dyspepsia, kidney troubles and nervous diseases of some sort set in and the clearly marked effects of coffee poisoning are shown.

These are facts and worth anyone's thought. The reasonable and sensible thing to leave it off and shift to Postum. The poison that has been secretly killing is thus withdrawn and a powerful rebuilding agent put to work.

The good effects generally begin to show inside of 10 days. If health and comfort are worth anything to you, try it.

BUSINESSMEN'S CLUB FAVORS GOOD ROADS

TOMAH, Wis., Feb. 7.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Tomah Business Men's club was held at the club rooms Thursday evening in which the following Tomah business men were elected members: E. G. Lockwood, Frank Fischer, W. McNeel, George Gove, E. E. Dano, Bert Fuller, Frank Drew, Jr., and Louis Barnes.

They voted to make honorary members of the club the respective town boards of contiguous cities and sent cards of invitation to them.

The following resolution was adopted: "Be it resolved, by the Tomah Business Men's club, that it is the sense of this club that any so-called 'Good Road law' which may hereafter be passed by the legislature, should provide for the appointment of a state commissioner who shall receive no compensation other than his actual expenses.

"Further, that these commissioners, who shall be men of recognized ability and identified with or interested in the general movement for good roads; and that they should have the power to appoint a state engineer to act under their orders.

"Further, that the expenditure of the state's funds allotted to the several counties for this purpose, shall be controlled by the state through the commissioners.

"Further, that the secretary of this club be directed to forward to his excellency, Gov. Jas. O. Davidson and also to our assemblyman and senators from this district a copy of this resolution, and to respectfully urge upon them the desirability of having these provisions incorporated into law."

A supper was enjoyed after the meeting and it was discussed and generally decided upon to hold a handicap billiard tournament here in the near future.

Program at the High

A very interesting lyceum program was rendered at the high school Tuesday evening.

Music—High School orchestra. Original poem, "Tomah High School Skeleton"—Byron Black.

"Main Facts of the Ballinger-Pinchot Controversy"—Margaret Flaherty.

Music, "The Winds are All Hushed"—High School Male quartet.

The principal number of the evening was the debate: "Resolved, that insurgents are justified in their actions toward Cannonism." Affirmative, Ralph Baker, Mae Prickett, Edgar Staben; negative, John Kitzler, Anna Cramer, Raymond Eberhart. Decision was rendered in favor of the negative. Someone, however, has gone so far as to venture that it was not the speakers' fault that the debate went to the negative side.

The Jacques Manufacturing company, proprietors of K C Baking Powder are deserving great credit for the excellent work done in La Crosse. Every session has been largely attended by La Crosse ladies, who in almost every instance expressed their appreciation of the show and brought their friends to the baking school.

This Free Remedy Helps Sickly Babies

Babies and children suffer mostly from the stomach. There is something wrong with the milk or with the eggs or with the minor articles of food, for it doesn't take much to disturb a child's stomach. One thing the mother can always be sure of and that is that no harm can come from giving a small dose of a mild laxative, for it is sure to be better off for it. You know your own feeling of lightness and ease when that function has been performed, so how much more important is it to the child?

Watch carefully that your child does not become constipated, for if it does not have at least one or two movements of the bowels each day it is constipated. From constipation comes headache, a feeling of oppression, bad breath, nausea, sour stomach, etc. In these troubles you can obtain nothing better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Give it in the small doses prescribed for children and watch the sickly child become healthy and well, full of appetite and energy.

Mothers all over this country have been using this remedy for a quarter of a century and many heads of families like Mr. C. L. Lynch of Billings, Ala., and Mrs. Amanda Black of Laura, O., would not keep house without it. They have long ago discarded tablets, pills, salts and such things for a milder, more gentle and more effective remedy. It is in the homes of every member of the family, from the youngest to the oldest, can use it safely. It is in the homes of more families today than any other laxative, but if you have never used it Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will send you a sample bottle free of charge. If you use it in the regular way of your drug store at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain the case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 524 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

THE COST OF LIVING

Discussion of the high cost of living, ample in quantity, is in the main developed along factional lines that prevent fair consideration.

The trusts and tariff devotees declare it is due to increase in population with which growth in production is not commensurate, if indeed there is not actual shrinkage in production.

The low tariff and anti-trust economists declare with equal positiveness that it is due to the tariff and monopolistic trade agreements.

Some sociologists assert that it is due to the fact that people are not satisfied with the old, modest way of living, and their new tastes and demands lead them to extravagance; and to this the tariff beneficiaries eagerly subscribe.

To the average mind each of these arguments must appeal as having its proportionate effect upon the cost of living. That the tariff, in shutting out competitive products, automatically increases prices by reducing the supply, is clear. That monopolists, clubbing together to fix prices and cut out all competition, a thing to their ability to accomplish which the tariff contributes, has been proven whenever it becomes an issue of fact to be a factor in the problem. That population has increased faster than production, and tends to increase prices is equally patent. That we do live better and must pay more for it, is apparent to any who have lived to the prime of life.

But the fact that natural causes are tending to increase prices does not release government from its obligation to strike quick and hard at the artificial instrumentalities by which selfish monopolists are holding up the people. The fact that natural conditions over which government can exert no control are creating hardship in the matter of living expenses, so far from excusing predatory monopoly, is all the more a justification for the expectation that official administration will afford every relief within its power.

BOLD SUBSIDY GRAFT

Criticism of the manner in which the Humphreys ship subsidy bill was given the prestige of a committee endorsement Thursday seems indeed well founded. With but one hearing, and with no serious consideration of its provisions, this monopolistic measure was pushed out of committee without opportunity for debate, while measures for the benefit of the public this bill is intended to defraud are held up indefinitely. The Chicago Tribune says:

The preceding today constitutes a record breaking defiance of parliamentary consideration and of public sentiment. It shows to what limits the advocates of ship subsidy have been pushed in order to place this extra burden upon a treasury dangerously near the point where bonds will have to be issued to sustain the credit of the country.

Framed up as the committee had been by Mr. Cannon, it was not surprising that it should order a favorable report on the Humphreys bill. The astonishing feature of the matter lies in the willingness of the men behind the scheme to outrage further the sentiment in the middle west on this subject.

The house could wait for the president's great reform measures, such as those in reference to interstate commerce, conservation, anti-injunction, and postal savings banks, which are of direct importance to the welfare of all the people of the United States. None of these propositions, with the exception of one bill on public lands, which is not in line with Mr. Taft's recommendations, has been reported, and the anti-injunction and postal savings banks measures have not received any consideration to speak of.

But all of these bills are opposed by large interests, while other large interests favor the ship subsidy scheme.

SPOTLIGHTS

"THE CLANSMAN" TODAY

That intensely interesting drama of the reconstruction period, "The Clansman," will play at the La Crosse theater today. Viewed as a stage product simply, "The Clansman" is one of the most powerful dramas ever put on the American boards. Such scenes as the high court of the Ku Klux Klan and the parting of the lovers, Ben and Elsie, would alone be sufficient to make the fortune of any play. The power of the play as a play is proven by the enthusiasm with which it is received both north and south. Popular support, not critical opinion, is what makes and mays plays, and the tremendous business done by "The Clansman" is every section of the country shows the people's verdict.

THE FLORA DE VOSS CO

This attraction opened a week's engagement at the La Crosse theater last night, the house being nearly sold out. The company is one of the strongest stocks seen here in a long time.

Miss Flora De Voss is a charming comedienne and is supported by a well balanced company. The performance was continuous. Between acts were introduced extra clever vaudeville features. Kinzo, the Japanese juggler, stands alone in his unparalleled feats, while Gilmore and Castle brought forth applause from the entire house.

Tuesday night is offered "A Romance of the North," its first time in La Crosse, with Miss De Voss as the "girl of the pines."

Matinees will be given Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. The company gives way tonight for "The Clansman."

Family Cough Syrup

Cures Any Cough in Five Hours NEW PRESCRIPTION HERE

Here is given the most effective cough prescription known to the medical world. It is a mild laxative, too, and this is what a body needs when suffering with cough and cold on the lungs. A cough or cold indicates poison in the system, causing inflammation and congestion. Nearly all cough syrups relieve, but make the trouble worse by their constipating effects. This prescription not only relieves quickly, but it cures any cough that is curable. Get one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce, compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Mix in a bottle. Take for acute cough or bronchitis twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times daily. Give children less according to age. A few hours' treatment will cure and heal the throat and lungs of all but consumptives. Cut this out and give it to some friend who may need it to be saved from an early death by consumption.

How to Make the Best Remedy for Weak Nerves

Most people know how to treat a stomach ache, but how few know any household remedy that will really soothe and strengthen the nerves! Here's a recipe, and it is excellent, even if it is inexpensive.

From any druggist, buy five cents' worth of Hops and 2 ozs. of Thargol Compound (about fifty cents worth.) Make a strong tea by steeping the Hops in a pint of boiling water, and strain thoroughly. Then in an 8-oz. bottle (exactly half-pint) put the Thargol Comp. and fill up with the Hop Tea. The usual dose is two teaspoonfuls four times daily.

In all the long list of nervous diseases, from plain "nervousness" to epilepsy or St. Vitus Dance, you can get no better medicine than this, no matter what you pay. It is prompt, simple and safe, containing no opiates, narcotics or other habit-forming drugs and has no evil effects. In cases of nervous headache or sleeplessness, it is worth its weight in gold. In any nervous ailment, it is well worth trying.

You might clip this article to remind you what to get from the druggist—Hops, 5c; Thargol Comp., 2 ozs. No other ingredients will work in this prescription.

His followers will be barred.

PRINCE GEORGE REMAINS

BEIGRADE, Feb. 7.—Prince George, the former crown prince of Serbia, according to statements made by his friends today, is remaining in Serbia, despite the government's attempt to banish him in the hope of being able to wrest the crown from his young rebrother, Prince Alexander in the event of King Peter's death.

King Leopold's Kindness

A Fifth avenue art dealer said of King Leopold of Belgium: "In all of this uproar of condemnation, let me raise one little note of praise."

"King Leopold had superb and incorruptible taste. The chateau of Laeken is one of the finest in Europe. The chateau at Cape Ferret, overlooking the Mediterranean, between Nice and Monte Carlo, established a new standard in Riviera villas."

"As a connoisseur of painting the King was remarkable, and several famous artists were spared years of privation and unrecognized struggle, thanks to his generous aid."

"A French artist once told me that when he was quite unknown Leopold admired a painting of his in the salon, and got the artist's address, and bade him come with the picture on such and such an afternoon to the Bristol."

"So to the Bristol, that quiet and simple hotel in the Place Vendome, that only kings, Pierpont Morgans and Wideners patronize, the artist and his picture repaired duly."

"King Leopold praised the picture. Then he said to the young man: 'I'll buy it. What is its price?'"

"The poor artist hesitated, thought of demanding a thousand francs, then boldly said: 'Two thousand francs, your majesty.'"

"Thereupon Leopold, tactfully and delicately, taught the young man his real worth—saved him from selling for a song for many years pictures that in his old age he would, like Whistler, see sold for fortunes."

"Ten thousand francs," said the King, feigning to have misunderstood. "That and no more," he added, firmly. "If that satisfactory my secretary will write you a check."

"Pardon me, your majesty," stammered the young artist. "I said two thousand francs, not ten thousand."

"But the King again feigned a slight deafness."

"No," he said, "I never bargain. Ten thousand or nothing."

"And the money was duly paid." —Washington Star.

His Status

London Weather

"Yes, this is bad weather," said Senator Tillman on a day of rain and sleet. "It is nothing to London, though."

"Once, on a dripping water day in London, a sulphur brown or pea-soup fog in the air, and everybody drenched to the skin, I sat on a 'bus top beside a Parsee in a red fez."

"When the Parsee got off, the driver of the 'bus, touching his hat with his whip, said to me: 'Would you mind telling' me, sir, what sort of chap that is?'"

"He's a Parsee," said I. "An Indian you know; a sun worshiper."

"Worships the sun, does he, sir?" said the wet and shivering driver. "I suppose he's come here to 'ave a rest?'" —Providence Journal.

He Did

Tommy came out of a room in which his father was tacking down carpet. He was crying lustily.

"Why, Tommy, what's the matter?" asked his mother.

"P-p-papa hit his finger with the hammer," sobbed Tommy.

"Well, you needn't cry at a thing like that," comforted the mother.

"Why didn't you laugh?"

"I did," sobbed Tommy, disconsolate.—The Housekeeper.

Not Fast Colors

"Auntie," said little Constance, "don't you want some of my candy?"

"Thank you, dear," was the reply. "Sugared almonds are favorites of mine."

"The pink or the white ones?" asked the little tot.

"The white ones, please."

There was silence until the last piece had disappeared.

"They were all pink at first, Auntie," remarked Constance.—Success Magazine.

"LITTLE GIANT" PRESCRIPTION

Cures Rheumatism and Backache in a Hurry

Doctors gave this its nick-name from its quick and powerful action on rheumatism and backache. It is said to be a positive cure. "Get one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound and one ounce of Toris compound. Then get half a pint of good whiskey and put the other two ingredients into it. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bed time. Shake the bottle before using." The good effects are felt immediately. This has cured hundreds here. Any druggist has these ingredients on hand or will quickly get them from his wholesale house.

You can get this

Bread Kneader FREE

Kneads dough as with human hands, quickly and with but little labor.

The MARVEL Bread Kneader, Cake Maker and Churn is wholly different in principle from the other bread mixing machines—it kneads the dough with the same rolling and squeezing motion which results from kneading by hand.

In mixing it is fully twice as fast as any other mixer. In kneading, but three to five minutes (the time required by other machines for mixing only) will mix the flour into dough and thoroughly knead it.

It is not only the perfect bread kneader but it is the most powerful and rapid cake beater on the market; it is also an efficient and rapid churn. You can get it free if you use

Marvel Flour

MARVEL is a very dry, "thirsty" flour. It contains less water—hence you get more bread material; it makes more loaves per sack; and even if you had to pay more for MARVEL Flour—which you don't—it would still cost less per loaf.

MARVEL Flour is economical. More important still, it makes better bread. Good flour, like cream, depends on how much of the poor grade is skimmed off—the more skimmed milk, the richer the cream. Marvel Flour is the richest of the flour portion of the wheat—twice as much of the lower grades being taken out as in the ordinary brands.

MARVEL makes very light, creamy white, delicious bread that keeps moist and fresh for many days—large loaves, fine in texture and handsome in appearance—bread that will delight the family and of which any housewife may well be proud.

"Yes," resumed Calhoun, "I was just speaking with this lady over some matters concerned with this little slipper." He smiled as he held it up gingerly between thumb and finger. "Do you recognize it, Madam Baroness?"

"Ah, my little shoe!" she exclaimed. "But see, it has not been well cared for."

"It traveled in my war bag from Oregon to Washington," said I. "Perhaps bullet molds and powder flasks may have damaged it."

"It still would serve as a little postoffice, perhaps," laughed the baroness. "But I think its days are done on such errands."

"I will explain something of these errands to the Senora Yturrio," said Calhoun. "I wish you personally to say to that lady, if you will, that Senor Yturrio regarded this little receptacle rather as official than personal post."

For one moment these two women looked at each other, with that on their faces which would be hard to describe. At last the baroness spoke:

"It is not wholly my fault, Senora Yturrio, if your husband gave you cause to think there was more than diplomacy between us. At least, I can say to you that it was the sport of it alone, the intrigue, if you please, which interested me. I trust you will not accuse me beyond this."

A stifled exclamation came from the Dona Lucrezia. I have never seen more sadness nor yet more hatred on a human face than hers displayed. I have said that she was not thoroughbred. She arose now, proud as ever, it is true, but vicious. She declined Helena von Ritz's outstretched hand, and swept us a curtsey. "Adios!" said she. "I go!"

Mr. Calhoun gravely offered her an arm; and so with a rustle of her silks there passed from our lives one unhappy lady who helped to make our map for us.

The baroness herself turned. "I ought not to remain," she hesitated. "Madam," said Mr. Calhoun, "we can not spare you yet."

She flashed upon him a keen look. "It is a young country," said she, "but it raises statesmen. You foolish, dear Americans! One could have loved you all."

"Eh, what?" said Doctor Ward, turning to her. "My dear lady, two of us are too old for that; and as for the other—"

He did not know how hard this remark might smite, but as usual Helena von Ritz was brave and smiling. "You are men," said she, "such as we do not have in our courts of Europe. Men and women—that is what this country produces."

"Madam," said Calhoun, "I myself am a very poor sort of man. I am old, and I fall from month to month. I can not live long, at best. What you see in me is simply a purpose—a purpose to accomplish something for my country—a purpose which my country itself does not desire to see fulfilled. Republics do not reward us. What you say, shall be our chief reward. I have asked you here also to accept the thanks of all of us who know the intricacies of the events which have gone forward. Madam, we owe you Texas! 'Twas not you-der lady, but yourself, who first advised of the danger that threatened us. Hers was, after all, a simpler task than yours, because she only matched faiths with Van-Zandt, representative of Texas, who had faith in neither men, women nor nations. Had all gone well, we might perhaps have owed you yet more, for Oregon."

"Would you like Oregon?" she asked, looking at him with the full glance of her dark eyes.

"More than my life! More than the life of myself and all my friends, and family! More than all my fortune!" His voice rang clear and keen as that of youth.

"All of Oregon?" she asked.

"All? We do not own all! Perhaps we do not deserve it. Surely we could not expect it. Why, if we got one half of what that fellow Polk is claiming, we should do well enough—that is more than we deserve or could expect. With our army already at war on the Southwest, England, as we all know, is planning to take advantage of our helplessness in Oregon."

Without further answer, she held out to him a document whose appearance I, at least, recognized.

"I am but a woman," she said, "but it chances that I have been able to do this country perhaps something of a favor. Your assistant, Mr. Trist, has done me in his turn a favor. This much I will ask permission to do for him."

Calhoun's long and trembling fingers were nervously opening the document. He turned to her with eyes blazing with eagerness. "It is Oregon!" He dropped back into his chair.

"Yes," said Helena von Ritz slowly. "It is Oregon. It is bought and paid for. It is yours!"

So now they all went over that document, signed by none less than Fakenham himself, minister plenipotentiary for Great Britain. That document exists today somewhere in our archives, but I do not feel empowered to make known its full text. I would I had never need to set down, as I have, the cost of it. These others never knew that cost; and now they never can know, for long years since both Calhoun and Doctor Ward have been dead and gone. I turned aside as they examined the document which within the next few weeks was to become public property. The red wafers which mended it—and which she smilingly explained at Calhoun's demand—were, as I knew, not less than red drops of blood.

In brief, I may say that this paper stated that, in case the United States felt disposed to reopen discussions which Mr. Polk peremptorily had closed, Great Britain might be able to listen to a compromise on the line of the forty-ninth parallel. This compromise had three times been offered her by diplomacy of United States under earlier administrations. Great Britain stated that in view of her deep and abiding love of peace and her deep and abiding admiration for America, she would resign her claim of all of Oregon down to the Columbia; and more, she would accept the forty-ninth parallel; provided she might have free navigation rights upon the Columbia. In fact, this was precisely the memorandum of agreement which eventually established the lines of the treaty as to Oregon between Great Britain and the United States.

Mr. Calhoun is commonly credited with having brought about this treaty, and with having been author of its terms. So he was, but only in the singular way which in these foregoing pages I have related. States have their price. Texas was bought by blood. Oregon—ah, we who own it ought to prize it. None of our territory is half so full of romance, none of it is half so clean, as our great and bodiful far Northwest, still young in its days of destiny.

"We should in time have had all of Oregon, perhaps," said Mr. Calhoun. "At least, that is the talk of these fierce politicians."

"But for this fresh outbreak on the Southwest there would have been a better chance," said Helena von Ritz; "but I think, as matters are today, you would be wise to accept this compromise. I have seen your men marching, thousands of them, the grandest sight of this century or any other. They give full base for this compromise. Given, another year, and your rifles and your plows would make your claims still better. But this is today—"

"Believe me, Mr. Calhoun," I broke in, "your signature must go on this."

"How now? Why so anxious, my son?"

"Because it is right!"

Calhoun turned to Helena von Ritz. "Has this been presented to Mr. Buchanan, our secretary of state?" he asked.

GIN FOR THE KIDNEYS

Doctors agree that good, pure gin, when properly prescribed, is wonderful medicine for kidneys, liver and bladder. The one best prescription in which gin is used is given: "Six ounces good, pure gin, one-half ounce Murax compound, one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu." (Be sure to get the genuine Murax compound in original sealed package.) Any good druggist has it or can quickly get it. Shake the bottle of mixture well each time and take one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day after meals.

This should be taken at first sign of kidney trouble, pain in the back, frequent or highly colored urination, scalding urine, rheumatic pains in the joints, puffiness under the eyes, dimmed vision. The serious forms of kidney trouble are thus prevented.

BREAKING TRUCK CAUSES A WRECK

Freight Train Is Derailed at Richmond and Traffic Is Delayed for Eight Hours

The breaking of a truck on an extra "dead" freight south bound on the Milwaukee road caused a small wreck at Richmond, about sixteen miles north of here, shortly after midnight this morning. A number of freight cars left the track, causing a delay of about eight hours.

Conductor Ralph Munger, who was in charge of the freight was picking up dead cars on his way to the city. At Richmond the breaking of a truck caused the wreck. Passenger train No. 10, due here at 2:10 a. m., was delayed several hours, arriving here at 4:30 o'clock. The wrecking crew had the smash-up cleared away by 9:30 o'clock. Ernest Oeltjendier was the engineer in charge of the locomotive.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN

Young Lochoski, who was shot near Wauzeka Friday afternoon was twenty-seven years of age instead of being a small boy as was first reported. The boy who did the shooting is sixteen years of age. He aimed his gun at some birds and just as he pulled the trigger his brother ran around the corner of the barn, revolving the entire charge at short range. Death was almost instantaneous. The coroner's jury Friday evening rendered a verdict of death by accidental shooting, completely exonerating the younger boy. Lectures on Syria and Palestine were delivered at the Congregational church Sunday morning and evening by Rev. M. Powers who has recently returned from travels in the Holy Land.

LITTLE JOHNNY ONLY WANTED THE FACTS

"Say, pa, who was Hercules?" asked Johnnie, looking up from his book and disturbing the after-dinner reading circle composed of himself, his father and his mother.

His father laid down the newspaper with a gratified smile. "Hercules, Johnnie," he explained, "graciously, 'was a very strong man who lived a long time ago and did a number of very wonderful things. He was the strongest man in the world.'"

Johnnie gave his attention to his book again and his father resumed his analysis of the stock market. But not for long.

"How strong was Hercules, pa?" demanded Johnnie. "It says here he killed a bull with his hands."

"I believe he did," admitted his father.

"Say, pa, could Hercules throw Frank Gotch?" queried the student. His father frowned slightly. "I suppose he could," he said, "but we have no means of knowing in these days. Gotch is a wonderful man, of course, as a wrestler."

"I wish you wouldn't direct Johnnie's mind to those awful prize fighters and wrestlers and such persons," interrupted Johnnie's mother.

"Well, the child asked me a question, didn't he?" protested his father. "I don't see any harm in answering it. Anyhow, the prowess of our modern wrestlers and other strong men probably is as fit a subject for discussion as is that of Hercules and Samson and those old chaps."

"Hercules was a mythical character," insisted Johnnie's mother, sternly. "That makes it different."

Silence followed for a few minutes while Johnnie's mother followed the fortunes of Lady Gwendolyn, and his father tried to figure out why C O D stock had lost two points. Then Johnnie returned to the attack.

"Say, pa, what's a misal character?" he asked.

"What's a what?" asked his father. "What ma said Hercules was."

"Why, a mythical character, Johnnie," began his father, "is one that never existed. A myth is a fancy—a sort of legend or story, you understand. And a mythical character is a person that is told about in such a story."

He returned to his paper with a pleasing sense of duty well performed, but Johnnie was far from being ready to quit.

"Well, if Hercules was a mythical character, then," he said, "there never was a Hercules, was there?"

"Well, no," Johnnie's father grudgingly admitted. "Hercules is a sort of myth or fairy character."

"Then, if there never was any Hercules, he didn't kill any bull with his own hands, did he?"

"No, no, it's just a story," explained his father, shortly, turning his newspaper over and trying to find something interesting.

"But you told me he could throw Frank Gotch," he persisted. "If there never was any Hercules, how could he throw Gotch?"

"There!" interjected Johnnie's mother, laying her book down. "You see the trend of the child's mind since you introduced your friend Mr. Gotch into his studies!"

Johnnie's father found the interesting article he was looking for and buried his nose in it for a few seconds. Then his son and heir fired another shot.

"Say, pa, if there wasn't any Hercules then all this about him killing the bull isn't true, is it?"

"No," admitted his father, crossly. "Well, what did you tell me that stuff about Gotch for?" demanded Johnnie. "Is Gotch a myth, too?"

Here Johnnie's father ended the discussion.

"Young man," he ordered, "you go to bed!"

PEARY'S NEGRO TO GIVE LECTURE

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—There is one negro in Chicago today who is commanding more attention from his people than Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist ever did.

Matthew Henson for 21 years the personal bodyguard of Commander Robert E. Peary, and the only English speaking man with the explorer on his last dash to the pole, is the man. He will tell of his experiences in the frozen north tonight at the Quinn chapel, a south side negro church.

"I think I should like to make the trip to the south pole and I believe it would be an easy matter to get there because it is land all the way and you don't have to figure upon the ice breaking up on you," Henson said today.

It is a coincidence that the negro aid of Peary is a guest of the Rev. Mr. Cook.

COLONIZATION BY JEWS IS RESENTED

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 7.—Jewish colonization of Palestine is beginning to alarm the Turkish government. So much more capable are the Jews than the ignorant Fellahs, or peasantry that the latter are being crowded from their homes and land and a feeling of the most intense bitterness is developing against the invaders.

It is feared that a forcible attempt may be made to oust the Jews, resulting in disorders and bloodshed.

CAN A ROAD RE-ORGANIZE ON WATER?

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7. — If a railroad issues bonds for say $30,000,000, fails, goes into the hands of a receiver, is reorganized and is appraised by the interstate commerce commission at only ten millions, should the reorganizers be allowed to issue thirty millions of bonds or new stock or only ten?

This is the problem with which the house committee on interstate commerce and foreign commerce struggled. James Byrne, an attorney, appeared before the committee to argue for a law that would permit the reorganized companies to issue securities up to the full amount of the original indebtedness.

"But if the road was overcapitalized and over bonded in the first place, what right have we to allow it to do it again. Why not squeeze the water all out at the first opportunity?" asked Chairman Mann.

"Because that would do an injustice to the holders of the original paper, the people who bought it in good faith and would be robbed unless they can get new securities equal in value to what they should have received in the first place," replied Byrne.

The committee also considered a paragraph in the proposed law which would declare in so many words that nothing in the statute is intended to affect the validation of contracts made in the past. Mann objected to his on the ground that it might add value to the securities of various kinds, "which are based wholly on water."

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. — Society women who have joined with Mrs. O. H. Belmont in the war for equal rights for all, especially in the matter of voting, are faltering today because Mrs. Belmont has taken negro women into the fold on the equal rights basis.

GREAT LECTURE BY DR. CONDON

Well Known Local Clergyman Lectures Last Night on the Works of the Western Monks

The lecture given by Rev. Dr. Condon at St. Mary's church last evening was one of the most brilliant of the series which is being delivered regularly Sunday evenings by the talented young orator.

Dr. Condon's eloquence is so well known as well as his capabilities as a lecturer, that it seems unnecessary to state that the affair of last night was a decided success, and the seating capacity of the church taxed to its utmost.

The subject treated of was "What the Western Monks Have Done." He spoke at length of how they had been grossly misrepresented by some historians, and proved the falsity of their statements with regard to the lives and work of their benefactors of society with an energy that could not fail to carry with it conviction.

At the close of this brilliant lecture Dr. Condon announced that next Sunday evening he would lecture on "The Real Presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist."

BABY BORN WITH TEETH SPROUTING

CHICAGO, Feb. 7. — Francesco Guglianesi put on his brown corduroy suit today, lit a black cigar and walked proudly through the streets of "Little Italy."

Incidentally he was announced to his friends that he was the father of a baby which, though it weighs less than five pounds, had two teeth at birth. This statement is not only backed by the attending physician but the medical man announces that all the rest of the upper and lower teeth are "sprouting" and will be out in a day or two.

The Brush had a perfect technical score and won over 25 large 4-cylinder cars costing from $1,000.00 to $5,000.00.

Why then buy a car which is expensive to keep up, when you can get a little car that has made good, like the Brush?

THE BEE HIVE COIFFURE

To the delicately featured girl which piquancy is even more of a charm than her mere beauty of feature, this quaint style is a boon. The shape of her dainty head is revealed by coiling the hair closely in a flat effect. An appearance of height is gained by the mound of puffs set on the very crown of her head while every pert and bird-like poise or demure droop of that same head which invariably is piquancy type is made more telling by this style of high hair dressing.

"LID" ON INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 7. — The lid is on in Indianapolis. As a result of the strict order issued by Mayor Shank only four saloon owners will be brought into police court today charged with selling liquor on Sundays.

All Kinds

Mrs. Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, praised at a dinner at the Colony club in New York the American department store.

"At the same time," she said, "you are not, in your department stores, such really 'universal providers' as our London stores. There you get everything—positively everything."

"I know a lady who said to a London department store assistant once: 'Where is the Brussels counter?'"

"Carpets, sprouts or points" the assistant asked.—Washington Star.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. — Excoriation of the United States and unstinted eulogy of Mexico mark the comment of "El Suffragio, Libre," a newspaper published in the city of Mexico, whose alleged reproduction of the orders issued by President Diaz for the rescue of former President Zelaya of Nicaragua has just reached here.

As printed in that paper the orders issued by President Diaz to Commander Azueta of the Mexican gunboat Guerrero read as follows:

TEDDY LIKED HIS MEAT "VERY RIPE"

Putrid Article was Hung
Out to Decay, Says Witness in Probe at Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—

Putrid meat is the "swell" thing in the line of diet among certain fashionable people in Washington. Unless it is ready to fall to pieces the real "nob" of the smart set won't eat it at all.

This sort of meat was served at the White house during the Roosevelt administration according to the testimony given today by Food Inspector Dodge before the house committee on the District of Columbia which is trying to find out why it costs so much to eat in the capital city.

Dodge testified that one day when he was about to condemn a big chunk of bad beef, the butcher began to hold off. "There's a footman outside waiting for a roast of that meat right now," said the beef seller.

Concerning the meat served to President Roosevelt, Dodge said that the steward was in the habit of buying beef by the quarter.

The quarters would be hung up in the open, Dodge said, and President Roosevelt would visit it every morning, poke his finger in it and not allow it to be used until it was "nice and ripe."

Representative Johnson (R., Ky.)
characterized that kind of diet as a gratification of canine appetite and asked Dodge if the "butcher kept this same meat in the same box with that intended for civilized people."

Dodge thought they did.

ANOTHER AMERICAN FORTUNE GONE

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Mr. and Mrs.
Anthony J. Drexel, formerly of Philadelphia, today formally announced
the engagement of their daughter, Margaretta Armstrong, to Viscount Maldstone. The wedding will take place the latter part of June or early in July at the Drexel home in this city.

Miss Drexel is a sister of Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., whose engagement to Miss Marjorie Gould of New York
was only recently announced.
Viscount Maldstone's full name is Guy Montague George Finch-Hatton.
He is 25 years old, four years older than his fiancée. His family is one of the most distinguished in England.

WOULD LYNCH QUACK DOCTOR

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 7.—Coroner Bennett is doing his best today to investigate, without further arousing
the turbulent Hungarian settlement, the death of Mrs. Paul Santos while undergoing treatment for rheumatism by a quack doctor. The doctor is in hiding and the Hungarians of the district are threatening to lynch him
if he is caught.

Mrs. Santos was stricken with paralysis and the quack, it is said, offered to cure her for $20. The man, who is declared to be the janitor of a church, placed the woman on a chair with her paralyzed legs outstretched on another. He placed a tub of boiling water under them so that the steaming water burned them, persisting in the torture despite the woman's cries.

Later he poured almost half a gallon of alcohol into the water, thrusting a red hot poker into the solution.
The alcohol ignited, practically cooking the woman's limbs. She died in the hospital late yesterday from the effects.

Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Interment being in Oak Grove cemtery in this city.

Mr. Jefferson was born in Rome,
N. Y., and came west in the early 60's, residing first at Caledonia and removing to Onalaska a few years later.

STRAM WANTED TO SHOOT SOMEBODY

Impressed with Idea Some Evil Mind Forced Him to Drink; Is Declared Insane

Louis Stram, 417 Badger street,
formerly of Harper's Ferry, more recently of La Crosse, is the victim of a peculiar delusion, and was Saturday committed to the state asylum
for insane at Mendota.

Stram was arrested on the down town streets Saturday after he had declared that he intended to shoot someone and had exhibited a huge revolver with which he intended to commit the deed.

When brought before County
Judge John Brindley, he declared that all of the people at Harper's Ferry and a great many people in La Crosse have concentrated their minds upon him and he has been in this way forced to drink whiskey against his will. He said that he has now reached the limit where he cannot drink liquor any more, and that he has made up his mind to kill
all of the people who were driving him to drink.

Sheriff Duncan left for Mendota
with the man today.

BAD COLLISION AT DESOTO, WIS.

o'clock. There were four people injured: J. W. McDonald, Philadelphia, colored porter on the dead head private car, Hazlemere, right leg broken above the knee; W. Stafford, Aurora, electrician, cut on head and bruised under the eye; two mail clerks, J. Sweet and Jerry Leonard of Savanna, badly shaken up. No one else was injured. James O'Brien of this city was the engineer on No. 49
and Clarence King was in the cab of
No. 50. They escaped by jumping.
The cause of the wreck has not yet been determined but will be brought out by an investigation which will be instituted later.

"We sent out a relief train from here this morning with the company
doctors, Sulter and Maurer aboard.
Dr. Christensen happened to be on the scene to render any assistance that he was able to. The injured will be taken through to their homes."

Story from DeSoto

A staff reporter of The Tribune hurried to DeSoto this morning gained an accurate and thrilling account of the wreck and the miraculous escapes surrounding it. That some were not killed seems remarkable.

Dale Guthrie, operator at the De Soto station makes the statement that the block was set against train
No. 49, but for some reason the engineer ran past it. Engineer O'Brien, an old man on the road, is credited with the statement unofficially, that he cannot understand why he ran past the block.

Jerry L. Leonard, the mail clerk of No. 49 had a miraculous escape from death. He was buried with his assistant, L. E. Weaver, under an almost inconceivable mass of wreckage. As the rescuers struggled to free him he directed operations from his imperiled position, which was such that when the timbers loosened
a bit he was squeezed so tight he could not talk. He sustained a broken rib, but was finally rescued
as was his companion, Weaver.
Weaver was brought to a La Crosse hospital.

Saved by Heavy Engine.
Train No. 50 suffered least, probably because she was equipped with one of the heavy types of locomotives.
While 50's engine was not badly damaged, the engine of No. 49 rose out of its trucks and stood obliquely in the air.

The wreck occurred a quarter of a mile north of the DeSoto station at an "S" curve, which prevented the engineers from seeing each other's approach.

Porter's Remarkable Escape.

J. W. McDonald, colored porter on the private car "Hazlemere" of Kissinger, one of the Northern Pacific officials, which was being taken back to Chicago empty, save for the porter, suffered a miraculous escape.
The mail car directly behind No. 50's engine was not badly damaged, but the mail car behind the first one was pushed half way through the private car. McDonald, who sustained a broken leg, declares he was pushed through three compartments in the wreckage, from which he was rescued in a serious condition from cuts and bruises.

Walter Stafford, electrician, 239 Hennem street, Aurora, Ill., was in the baggage car which was telescoped
and was severely cut and bruised.
C. Ekert, baggage man Chicago, was also in the car and helped to rescue Stafford from the debris. The mail car in which Leonard was at work
was clear off the tracks and was badly smashed, while No. 49's engine was almost totally demolished.

Doctors on Job

Dr. C. E. Stevens of DeSoto was on the scene at once, and Drs. F. C.
Sulter and Egan of La Crosse arrived on the special train. Picking up the wreckage was at once begun,
and before noon the wrecked engines and cars had been taken back toward the depot and the tracks were cleared for traffic.

The orders carried by No. 49,
northbound, were received at Prairie du Chien, while the orders of the southbound train came from the train dispatcher at La Crosse, so that the investigation may develop results different from what is indicated upon the surface at present.

Give Your Stomach A Vacation

By Using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Which Digest Food Without Any Aid

A Trial Package Sent Free
The stomach should have a rest
when it is tired out and irritated from dyspepsia and indigestion. One should not call upon the stomach in this condition to do its full and complete duty. What the stomach needs is natural assistance and when this is given it the stomach responds quickly to the needed rest and comes back to its duties refreshed and invigorated.

When you feel as though your stomach were a piece of lead, when gases or foul odor issue from your throat, when your tongue is coated and your appetite gone, it is high time to send your stomach on a vacation.

The stomach is constantly coming
in contact with foreign substances, which it must reduce in form to give strength and health to the other organs of the body. It is the commissary department of the human system and must furnish from such supplies as come to it all that such a system demands.

If the stomach becomes deranged
and cannot furnish all that is necessary, it weakens the entire machinery of man and is itself placed out of commission. It cannot cure itself because the curative powers of Nature receive their force from the stomach, so that if the stomach issues imperfect nourishment it cannot receive perfect curative means for its own benefit.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets impart
all the power, vigor and strength necessary to the stomach. They do the stomach's work and without calling on this organ for assistance.

If you would put your meal in a glass jar and with it place the correct amount of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets you could sit down and watch
these little tablets digest the meal
as perfectly as the most healthy stomach. This demonstration has been made in almost every state in the union by these tablets, one grain of a single ingredient being capable of digesting 3000 grains of food.

If you have the slightest doubt about your stomach, go to the nearest drug store and buy a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, price 50c, or send us your name and address and we will immediately send you by mail a trial package free. Address F.

ROBNETT CALLED COWLES NAMES

Tale of Naughtiness Interests Women Spectators who Refuse to Leave
when Given the Chance

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 7.—Women
sensation seekers who have haunted
the court martial at the navy yard
here since the airing of the Cowles-Auld-Robnett scandal, got their first taste of naughtiness here today when the court martial of Past Assistant Surgeon Ansey Hamilton Robnett began with Captain Helm as president.

Dr. Edward S. Cowles, the complainant, was on the stand. Opening his testimony, Dr. Cowles rehearsed the incidents of the navy hop given at the residence of Medical Inspector Ames when Robnett is alleged to have abetted Paymaster Auld in an attack. He said that Robnett had joined in the altercation but had struck no blows.

Curious Women Satisfied

As to the other phase of the case,
Dr. Cowles alleged that Robnett had called him by a profane and abusive name over the telephone. Asked what Robnett said, Dr. Cowles was just about to give the words in detail
when Captain Helm announced that before the words were named the women present would be given an opportunity to leave the room. Not a woman moved.

Dr. Cowles then declared that Dr.
Robnett called him on the telephone and ordered that he return a photograph of Miss Dorothy Hesler, of Chicago at once. "He called me a —"
said Dr. Cowles and the women only leaned forward to listen
more intently.

INCORPORATION BILL INTRODUCED

Senator Clark Introduces a Bill which will Bring Corporations Under
Anti-Trust Law

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—
The federal incorporation bill as introduced in the senate today by Senator Clark of Wyoming, is aimed at the large corporations under the subsection of the anti-trust statutes. It also aims to make their business methods and operations a matter of public record to be open to any citizen of the United States.

President Taft's recommendation
for the law meets with the approval of John Pierpont Morgan and other New York financiers except in the two instances mentioned above.

The things which are concerning
the interests are the following:

The anticipated decision of the supreme court of the United States in the tobacco trust case.

The anticipated decision in the United States supreme court in the Standard oil case.

The declaration of the president
that if these cases are decided in favor of the government he will institute prosecutions against all the big corporations operating along the same lines as the tobacco and Standard Oil companies.

The insistence of the president upon enforcing the publicity feature of the corporation tax law.

Certain drastic provisions of the proposed interstate commerce law.

Demand by the president for the regulation of water power and control by the government of public
land.

Clark Introduces Bill

The administration's federal incorporation bill was today introduced in the senate by Senator Clark (R., Wyo.) immediately after the senate convened.

In introducing the bill Senator
Clark, chairman of the judiciary committee, made no mention of the fact that the attorney general was the author. The bill was promptly referred to Senator Clark's committee
by the vice president but Senator Newlands (D., Nev.) objected, contending that it should go to the committee on interstate commerce and moved its reference to that committee.

Clark replied that constitutional questions were involved and urged its consideration by the judiciary committee.

Newlands then objected to the second reading of the bill. It will therefore lie on the table until tomorrow
when the question of reference will be determined.

The bill was also introduced in the house by Representative Parker (R., N. J.) chairman of the house committee in the judiciary.

COWLES WANTED A FISTIC DUEL

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 7.—That Dr.
Edward S. Cowles desired a fistic bout to settle the involved personal differences will be the defense of Past Assistant Surgeon Ansey Hamilton Robnett, charged with abetting
the attack of Paymaster Auld upon Dr. Cowles at a recent army hop, if reports current today are to be credited.

Dr. and Mrs. Cowles asserted they were unfairly treated at the Auld hearing and that the real story of his navy scandal was not brought out,
and will try to introduce corroborative evidence at the Robnett trial today. Dr. Cowles cites the fact that Miss Margaret Ames, hostess at the trouble dance, "was not permitted to bring out her full story."

GRAIN LETTER

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—There was a feeling of heaviness at the opening of all grain markets today and first quotations were somewhat under last week's final figures. In all pits there was something of a bearish demonstration and prices had further declines, though wheat recovered sharply just before noon.

Wheat opened with trades at $1.08 3-4 to $1.09 for May and then broke to $1.08 5-8. Several local leaders sold about 200,000 bushels each. While the news mostly favored the sellers, they were timid on the breaks and the market rallied rather easily on any sort of buying.

The bearish news depressed corn prices and the market was weak all morning. About the only buying of importance was covering by short sellers of last week. Commission people sold on the decline.

Oats weakened with corn. There was aggressive selling by private wire houses and some hedging sales by cash interests. Receivers declare receipts of oats would be much larger if the railroads had the facilities to move the grain.

Provisions had a strong undertone. Cudahy was a free buyer and this prompted more or less short selling. The wheat advance continued and all futures closed from 7-8 to 11-16 above the opening price. Corn ended very weak. Oats a fraction lower. Provisions maintained their early gain and closed strong.

KING AND POPE IN NEW STRIFE

Former Vice President Fairbanks will Be Denied Audience with Pope Because of Action

ROME, Feb. 7.—Vatican officials expressed regret that it had been found necessary to cancel the appointment for former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks to pay his respects to the pope, because of his previous reception by King Victor Emmanuel and his address at the American Methodist church in Rome.

Either of these acts, it was pointed out, would have made it impossible for Fairbanks to be received at the vatican. The M. E. church is viewed as an enemy of the Catholic church by reason of its missionary work among the Catholics and by honoring it with his presence Fairbanks put himself beyond the pale of recognition by the vatican.

The action taken by the vatican officials in withdrawing the invitation to Fairbanks, one of the attaches explained, was regular in every way but the prominence of Fairbanks makes the incident most unpleasant. Many leading Catholic dignitaries favored disregarding the vatican rules and opposed the cancellation of the invitation to Fairbanks. They were overruled, however, by the authorities. At his hotel today Fairbanks refused to comment on the incident further than to say that he followed the program arranged by his friends and that he meant no discourtesy to the pope or to the Catholic church. He expressed regret at not being able to see the pope.

The affair has proved that the reported reconciliation between the king and the vatican is wholly unfounded and the relations between the two are likely to be for bitter than ever as a result of the incident. By including Fairbanks' previous call upon the king as one of the grounds for prohibiting him from the vatican, the church authorities have again placed the pope over the king and accentuated the strife between the king and vatican.

MOTORMAN RAN ONTO DYNAMITE

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 7.—Bodies of seven victims of a dynamite explosion which wrecked a gasoline car on the private motor road from Kelvin to the Ray copper mines were brought to Phoenix today.

A foreman in charge of the excavation operations along the road's right of way, declares that when he saw the car approaching the dynamite shot, which had already been lighted, he signalled Lyle to stop. The motorman did not heed the signal.

ZBYSKO DEFEATS
PERSON AT DULUTH

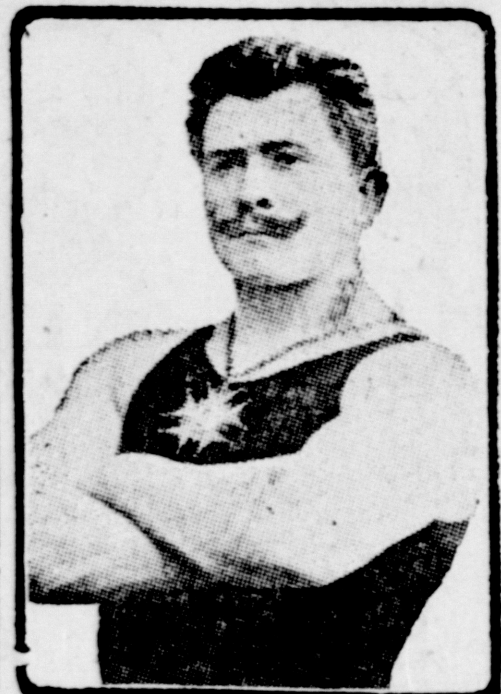

SUPERIOR, Wis., Feb. 7.—A large number of Polish people from Superior went to Duluth in a special car to see Zbyszko throw Christ Person in two straight falls. The Polish giant plinned the shoulders of the Head of the Lakes man to the canvas in 20 minutes of wrestling and then secured a second fall in a little more than half that time.

Zbyszko showed as much knowledge of the game as did Person and in addition the foreigner was a half a hundred pounds heavier than Person. Zbyszko is a giant in size and strength and it was his sheer weight that gave him the last fall. With a man of his own displacement Person would have probably wriggled out of the hole that proved fatal for his chances of winning.

ST. IVES DEFENDS
MARATHON TITLE

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 7.—Henri St. Ives, the champion marathon runner of the world, successfully defended his title at the Chutes ball park yesterday afternoon, when he won the big marathon race in the rather slow time of 2 hours, 46 minutes, 3-25 seconds. He distanced John D. Marsh, the Canadian champion, by more than a mile. James Fitzgerald of Calgary finished third, his time being 3 hours 27 minutes, 27 seconds.

A sudden change in the temperature is claimed by St. Ives as the reason for his not establishing a record. He caught a cramp in the side and before the twentieth mile was blue with the cold.

LA CROSSE WINS
BARABOO GAME

Final Score in Saturday Game is 42 to 28, and Great Team Work Is Shown by Locals

LA CROSSE IS COMPLIMENTED

Citizens Say They Are the Fastest Ever in that Place; Hope High for Championship

La Crosse High School Basketball team defeated the Baraboo team Saturday night by the score of 42 to 28. Although Baraboo had a fast team, they could not understand the fast passing of the La Crosse squad, and La Crosse got five baskets before the game was very old. Baraboo's guards could not follow the fast La Crosse forwards, and they slipped in several baskets when the guards were at the other end of the floor. Fitch Shaw, the regular guard, did not accompany the team, and Erwin Chamberlain took his place, but even this change did not effect the work of the team materially. The locals used new suction shoes, which aided them greatly in keeping their footing on the slippery floor, but as Baraboo also used this kind of shoes neither side had any advantage.

Baraboo people think the La Crosse team the fastest in the state, and many compliments were received on their team work.

Captain Ralph Bradish played a fine game, and was the largest point gainer for the team, making twenty-four points in all, having eight field and as many foul baskets to his credit. The team work of the locals was excellent, and they now look forward to the Sparta game next Saturday night with all confidence of their ability to down their old rivals.

After State Championship If Sparta is downed, La Crosse goes to Madison to compete with other champion teams, and if Menominee is beaten, the locals go to Appleton to fight for the state championship. The high team will now bend all their energies toward the downfall of Sparta in the gymnasium of the new Y. M. C. A. on Feb. 12th. La Crosse arrived home early yesterday morning, with everybody in the best of condition.

The teams lined up as follows: La Crosse—Ed. Stavrum, forward; Ralph Bradish, forward; Ray Keeler, center; Geo. Walker, guard; Erwin Chamberlain, guard; Chas. Hyde, sub. guard.

TWO GOOD GAMES
AT HIGH SCHOOL

With a crowd that made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers on hand to cheer, two class games were played at the high school Saturday night. The girls' game was the advanced seniors against the juniors, while the advanced junior boys played the advanced junior boys. Both were well played, and deserving of a much larger crowd, but as the crowd was lacking, the players served in the capacity of both players and rooters.

The senior girls succeeded in defeating the juniors by a score of 16 to 11, but only after a hard struggle, and the fact that two members of the first team played with them. Helen Anderson and Maud Neprud starred for the seniors, while Frances Egbert played a good game for the juniors.

The junior boys defeated the seniors by a score of 37 to 13, the game being a walkover for them. The first half was close, but in the last half the juniors made 25 points to their opponents' 6. Odin Strum was the star of this game, playing a fast, aggressive game all the time, and scoring most of the points for his team. On account of the non-appearance of several men, both teams were forced to play with but four men to a side.

We try to be reasonably patriotic but have been unable to worry much about that extending crack in the Liberty Bell.

BADGER QUINTET
BEATS GOPHERS

Rough Game Won by Wisconsin by Score of 24 to 14; Several Men Are Injured

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 7.—Wisconsin defeated the Minnesota basketball team by a score of 24 to 14 in a game characterized by its roughness and frequent injuries to players on both teams in the second half.

Wisconsin suffered most, Harper, Bickelhaupt and Witt taking out time in several instances, and finally the Badger captain was forced to the sidelines. Witt and Harper were Wisconsin's stars, while Lawler and Rosenwald did the best work for Minnesota. Walker, the Gopher center, dropped the ball into Wisconsin's basket mistaking it for his own, and adding two points to the Badger's score.

President C. R. Van Hise occupied a seat on the sidelines in the record breaking crowd of the year. The lineup:

Wisconsin—Birch, rf; Scoville, lf; Harper-Slidel, c; Witt, Harper, capt., rg; Bickelhaupt, lg.

Minnesota—Lawler, rf; Hansen, lf; Walker, c; Rosenwald, rg; Wanless, Anderson, lg.

Summary: Baskets—Birch, 3; Scoville, 2; Harper, 2; Slidel, 1; Witt, 2; Walker, 3; Lawler, 3. Free throws—Birch, 2; Hansen, 2. Referee—Charles Davis. Umpire—Byrne. Halves—20 minutes.

GROW LOBSTERS
ON WEST COAST

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—That the failing American lobster crop can be increased by transplanting the Massachusetts product in Pacific Coast waters is the belief of United States Senator Bourne, who has secured a promise from Fish Commissioner Bowers to send a car load of lobsters to Oregon where they will be planted in Yaquina Bay. Conditions here are believed to be ideal for lobster culture. Yaquina Bay has a rocky bottom, and the water temperatures are similar, although somewhat warmer in winter, to those of the Atlantic off Massachusetts and Maine, where most of the lobsters now come from. Experiments have been made previously on this coast, in the Columbia river, in Puget Sound and California waters, but they were unsuccessful. The required rocky bottom was not found in any of these places.

Senator Bourne will ask President Lovett of the Harriman lines to haul the car of lobsters free across the country and it is expected the Interstate Commerce Commission will permit the railroads to do so.

INDIANS TO USE
THUMB SIGNATURES

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Indians in this state in their dealings with the government hereafter will use thumb-mark signatures on all checks, receipts and other official papers instead of the cross-mark formerly made by those who cannot write. The impression of the right thumb will be placed after the name, duly witnessed, and it is said this gives a positive means of identification in case of dispute or attempted fraud. Orders to require thumb-mark signatures have just been issued and will probably include the entire business of the department.

SAY NO LEPROSY
HAS BEEN FOUND

The story brought to La Crosse in letters received from Chicago that leprosy was being spread in the Windy City, among women who use false hair, has been exploded in a statement of a prominent hair goods manufacturing concern in Chicago. They regard the story as ridiculous, although it is admitted that it has been circulated in certain sections and has reached them before.

The attention of the Chicago house was called to the fact that Chicago people were writing La Crosse friends of the "dread disease" there, by a local hair dressing firm.

The women are easily satisfied with the looks of a poor man's bride, but when a rich man marries they look at her as if she were labeled "linen," and they were trying to find some signs of cotton.

Mike (Twin) Sullivan Says that He Can't Do All the Fighting in the Sullivan Family

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Mike (Twin) Sullivan, here on his way east after his fight with Jimmy Clabby at Milwaukee, issued a statement that he doesn't want all the fighting in the Sullivan family to be done by him. Mike thinks Twin Jack and Brother Dan ought to have a crack at some of the purses.

During his brief stay in the east, he declared, he expects to arrange for a fight between Jack (Twin) Sullivan and Stanley Ketchel and Dan (Brother) Sullivan and Jimmy Clabby. He intimated that arrangements for three matches were already under way and that the fights might be staged in the very near future.

PIONEER WINONA
LUMBERMAN GONE

William H. Laird, pioneer Winona bank president, lumberman and capitalist, died in Baltimore Friday night, where he had gone with his wife and the family physician for an operation. Mr. Laird was well known in La Crosse, his business as a lumberman bringing him into contact with many of the well known citizens of this place.
